

Abstract

The invention relates to low-dust granules of plastics additives, comprising

- a) a phenolic antioxidant, an organic phosphite or phosphonite, a phosphonate, a sterically hindered amine or a UV absorber, individually, or a mixture of these compounds, and
- b) at least one epoxy compound which is solid at room temperature.

The granules are particularly suitable for stabilizing polymers, especially polyolefins such as polypropylene or polyethylene.

09375432.06.1.04